

Workshop & storage solutions for the Vauxhall Combo

Bott have developed two options for the Vauxhall Combo, which will suit tradesmen, service engineers and maintenance contractors for example, who need to carry equipment, components, spare parts and bulky items. Bott offers a full installation service at their East Midlands base or installation can be carried out at a location to suit the customer. In addition to these options developed using Standard Modules, Bott can also design and manufacture installations as part of a Bespoke Service, which will cater for the customers' very specific requirements. Bott offer an extensive range of accessories to restrain loads, provide power & light, organise tools and help to comply with Health & Safety requirements; ask a sales engineer for more details.
